VERBAL DESCRIPTION:

Medial fragment of an elongated-u handle censers. Boys and girls, this is a doozy. Not one mat-mark can be seen, nor any striations or evidence of burning. No erosion. The top is really smooth, with a <sup>orange</sup> slip and burnish, ~~and~~ and red painted lines running across the handle. The underside on the other hand, looks like the top side threw-up - is extremely rough, no slip, paint or decoration. The edges are pretty rounded, and the paint, slip + burnish looks to encompass them. I think whoever made this was pretty - much a lazy-ass who didn't finish the job. Not drawn.
